

Georgia Breast Health: Mammograms, Radiological Screenings Notice

Cigna cares about the health and well-being of our members and provides access to preventive care and patient education. The state of Georgia requires that we send the following information regarding your medical plan.

As required by the Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998, Cigna provides benefits for mastectomy-related services including all stages of reconstruction and surgery to achieve symmetry between the breasts, prostheses, and complications resulting from a mastectomy, including lymphedema.

Cigna provides women's health preventive care benefits for female participants enrolled in individual and family plans. Necessary mammograms, when ordered by a woman's physician or OB/GYN, are covered when services are provided by a participating provider. It is at the discretion of each woman's doctor to decide, based upon her health history, when or how often a mammogram is needed.
